Devils Arithmetic Book

The basic idea of this story is that a 10-year-old boy named Conradin who is terminally ill is living with his cousin. In the story, Conradin becomes fascinated by the book "The Devil's Arithmetic," written by Jane Yolen, which is about a 10-year-old Jewish girl named Hannah Stern who is sent back in time to experience the Holocaust during a Passover seder. Hannah is transported back in time to 1942 Poland during World War II where she is sent to a work camp and learns the atrocities of the Holocaust. She is then transported back home but finds that she cannot return to the past and must live with the consequences of her experience.

The story is a powerful exploration of the Holocaust and its impact on individuals, particularly young people. It is a must-read for anyone interested in understanding the history of the Holocaust and its legacy.
